

NEW Decodable Texts for Being a Reader

Reinforce Foundational Reading Skills with New Being a Reader Decodable Books

OVER 40 NEW TITLES FOR EXTRA READING PRACTICE

You've seen your students light up each time they pick up a decodable book and realize they can read every word independently. Now, give them even more opportunities to practice the phonics skills they're learning with these 44 new decodable texts, designed to support your Being a Reader™ small-group reading lessons.

Featuring delightful stories and engaging nonfiction, each beautifully designed text:

- Reinforces the skills introduced in small-group reading lessons
- Ensures students get the ample, targeted practice they need to thrive as growing readers
- Works seamlessly alongside your current small-group reading sets
- Inspires a love for reading and helps students build stamina for reading independently

“

Practicing newly taught developing reading skills leads to mastery of word recognition skills. This in turn brings students closer to the ultimate goal of reading instruction: being able to read with high levels of accuracy and automaticity as well as understanding.

— Lenora Forsythe and Andreia Simon,
The Role of Effective Decodable Text in Comprehensive Reading Instruction

Watch Your K-2 Readers Grow With These “Extra Practice” Decodable Collections

Add these new decodable text collections to your Being a Reader small-group reading sets to help developing readers build the automaticity, fluency, and independence they need for true comprehension.

Each grade-level package includes fiction and nonfiction titles, 6 copies of each.

Being a Reader Decodable Collection, Grade K (30 titles)	BR2-DECOD-CPK	$275
Being a Reader Decodable Collection, Grade 1 (30 titles)	BR2-DECOD-CP1	$275
Being a Reader Decodable Collection, Grade 2 (22 titles)	BR2-DECOD-CP2	$225

To meet the diverse reading abilities within a classroom, some titles repeat across grade levels.

Questions?

Contact your local manager of educational partnerships to learn more: collaborativeclassroom.org/about/find-my-local-representative.

Available to order via the Collaborative Classroom webstore on April 1, 2025